

Rev. Sarah Reynolds

Rev. Sarah Reynolds is the rector of St. Ann's Episcopal Church, the founding incubator of East Nashville Hope Exchange and a proud supporter of its mission. As a board member, she serves as the vital link between her congregation's deep commitment to community outreach and ENHE's work in promoting literacy and family support. She believes in ENHE's holistic approach, which not only fosters literacy in children but also uplifts their families—reflecting her vision of Beloved Community, where all individuals can thrive and reach their full potential. A Virginia native, Sarah has lived in Chicago, Los Angeles, and Washington, DC, before making East Nashville her beloved home. In her free time, she enjoys concerts, baseball games, long walks with her dog, and dreaming of the beach.
