

Annette Bullard

Annette Bullard serves as a board member, bringing a wealth of experience in information technology and education. A former Senior Technical Product Analyst with HealthTrust, she currently teaches Introduction to Information Systems as an adjunct professor at Fisk University. As an IT consultant, she has contributed to major projects with companies such as American General, Asurion, Bridgestone Firestone, HCA, and the launch of the Tennessee Lottery. Dedicated to community service, she has volunteered with Nashville Habitat for Humanity, Music City Grand Prix, and Stuff the Bus. A graduate of Syracuse University with a Bachelor of Arts in Management Information Systems and a Master of Science in Information Systems from Strayer University, she is also an avid reader, basketball enthusiast, and former youth basketball coach with the YMCA.