

Katie Struzick

Katie Struzick serves as a board member, combining her passion for hospitality, event planning, and community service. As the general manager and events coordinator for Lockeland Table, a beloved East Nashville restaurant, she oversees operations and curates engaging dining experiences. A committed advocate for childhood literacy, she has volunteered as both a tutor and board member with Margaret Maddox, where she played a key role in fundraising efforts for YMCA programs. In addition to supporting staff and directors, she has helped plan and execute events that directly benefit youth and literacy initiatives.