

Halima Ibrahim

Holding a bachelor's degree in Public Relations, Halima has a deep passion for storytelling, digital marketing, and fostering meaningful community engagement. Driven by a strong commitment to social impact, she continuously strives to amplify ENHE's voice, broaden its reach, and help create lasting change. Halima is dedicated to honing her skills and contributing creatively to leadership and advocacy efforts, ensuring her work leaves a positive impact. Outside of her professional endeavors, she is an avid reader and finds joy in exploring various visual art forms, particularly through the expressive medium of drawing.