Jordan Jones is a dedicated Registered Nurse at Vanderbilt University Medical Center, bringing valuable experience from her time as a travel nurse across various cities and hospitals nationwide. Now back in her beloved East Nashville community, she initially joined East Nashville Hope Exchange (ENHE) as a passionate volunteer with the summer program. As a member of the board, Jordan is excited to deepen her involvement and find even more ways to support and uplift the organization. With her healthcare expertise and unwavering commitment to service, Jordan is eager to help further ENHE's mission and make a meaningful, lasting impact on local families and children.
